

A sophisticated high-tech product

From Lebanon to the world

1- Our product:

A- Idea or a dream: By 3 individuals

B- A Joke: When the idea was revealed to the authorities and to people around us, they took it as a joke

C: Sophisticated high-tech product needs government support, a large investment and a lengthy development process.

D: Obstacles are a fact of life.

E: met with our competitors,

F: We are not talking about a mobile application, nor an ecommerce solution, not even a high-tech gadget, with all respect to all, but it was....

it was a UAV project, unmanned planes which
fly for several hours
with very long range and equipped with High-tech sensors & cameras.

Such a product is made of more than a hundred components - and they should all work perfectly with each other, or else the thing will not fly. Even worse, a smallest error or glitch could cause it to fall out of the sky.

And now, not only the Lebanese Army are using our planes, but governments and agencies in other countries as well.

I am not coming here to sell you planes but to assure you that: What ever was your dream, of course You can make it , even if you thought it was bigger than your lovely country.

2- Compared with our competitors when we meet and discuss with them in the exhibitions:

They have Government support.

They have multi-funds support.

They have local authority support.

In Lebanon, we have only ourselves...
